Ebola Orphans: We Should Not Be Forgotten

Visiting the U.S. from Sierra Leone, Father Peter Konteh is delivering the message that progress is being made in Sierra Leone to recover from the Ebola crisis but that much work remains-- especially in helping orphans. It will only take two minutes to watch the above video but we are sure you will find it inspiring and uplifting. Also we have updated our website so if you have another minute or two please check out our new look by clicking below.
